Happy Holidays to all! May all your freezers be full and your families healthy and happy. I would like to thank the Executive board, Officers, and Club Members for allowing me the honor of being your president the last 2 years. It has been my pleasure to serve you. I have had the pleasure of spending time with a great many of you during our events in the great outdoors. There is not a finer group of gentlemen on the planet. As I ride off into the sunset singing "Happy Trails", I look forward to seeing you all again at the next event.

Our new officers and board led by new president Dave Famiglietti, have the promise of Great Adventures and holding true to the Club Motto..."All We Want to do is Hunt, Fish and Talk about it"

Steve Linder President 2016 & 2017

Sportsman of the Year Nominees requested

The highest honor the club bestows is that of Sportsman of the Year, the award is presented at our annual banquet to be held on Feb 17th. Please nominate someone you feel exemplifies the qualities of a true sportsman, a giver of himself to others and the club and also carries themselves with honor and integrity in the field. The Sportsman of the Year committee this year is chaired by Ken Johnson please send in your recommendations "in writing" to the committee for consideration. Kens email address is KenJohnson4@cox.net Again this is the highest honor given by the club and should be taken very seriously.

Christmas Eve gathering at Ricardo's Mexican Grill

Another Club tradition is meeting at noon on December 24th for a short informal chance to wish one another a Merry Christmas and reflect a bit on the past year. We tell a few stories and have a few drinks and raise a toast to those members we have lost over the years....most notable Dan Perry with a shot of Jack Daniels. The informal nomination and selection of the FUBAR of the year is also done at this gathering so sometimes it helps to show up just to help keep your name off the radar for discussion. Ricardo's at Flamingo/Decatur

MEMBERSHIP RENEWAL NOTICE

The Board of Directors established a new format this year to help ensure better collection of monies going into the banquet. Each year it is critical to have funds available for the banquet held in early February. Membership dues of $25 for the fiscal year 2018 are due December 31, 2017. Any membership dues paid AFTER DECEMBER 31 WILL BE $50. That's right all current members must be paid by December 31st or there will be a late payment penalty raising your dues to $50. New members will still be $25 for the year. This new format is an effort to get collections that historically drag on into April and May. We have over 200 names on our roster and generally get only 50% or so that pay in a timely fashion. So please make sure you are current with your yearly dues payment or risk paying double.

PAY ON TIME OR PAY DOUBLE

2018 LVWW. Banquet February 17th

Get ready for the annual banquet to be held February 17th at the GOLD COAST Hotel & Casino (NEW LOCATION THIS YEAR). We have had a long run at the South Point but the cost increase was enormous this year so the committee found a new venue (no one wants to pay $100 for a dinner ticket). See ticket reservation form attached. Dave Famiglietti is the Chairman and has started the committee meetings preparing for a spectacular event. This is our only fund raiser for the year and also a BIG TIME for everyone to get together and have some fun, and hopefully win some great prizes. Dave stresses for everyone to try and get donations from your businesses, associates, places you frequent like restaurants, movie tickets, and other goods and services. All outdoor hunting and fishing related gear and gifts are great but so are other things like automotive services, home furnishings, ladies gift ideas and vacation spot trips.

What's the price of a deer tag?

By Mike Reese

Mike Reese and Michael Reese deer camp and hunt north of Pioche.

Who remembers the first deer they ever harvested? I know....how could you ever forget? Well after waiting 4 years my son and I finally got a tag. It was for area 22, the middle season. We set up camp a week early on a windy 75 degree day. I mention the wind because we were setting up a 14'x20' wall tent!! The area we put up the tent was the same area I hunted when I was 10 years old and we camped in the same spot. Needless to say, I knew the roads, springs and mountains well.

The opener finally came and I was by myself as the season started on a Tuesday. I told my son that I would scout the area for a few days and find a big buck. The first two days I only saw 10 deer and no bucks! My son was due to come and start hunting on Friday and I didn't have any good news to tell. I was literally shocked at how little amount of deer I could find, or any sign of deer for that matter. Well this was our 5th choice and I was just glad to have an opportunity to hunt. I was starting to think that our tag might as well have been for Polar bears!

Well the weekend came and I broke the bad news to my son, but we went out in search of Bullwinkle anyways. As luck would have it, we started to see more does and fawns and for the life of me I was wondering where the bucks were. Now the rut hadn't started and as warm as it was....I didn't know if it ever would. We went to check my old honey hole before we headed to camp for lunch. My son was riding with my uncle who also had a tag and I went up on the side of the mountain to glass the valley and my son went down through the bottom that had been cleared of trees two decades earlier from a small fire. I got setup to glass and had just spotted a spike when I heard a gunshot and I watched a big buck run over the hill. I heard another shot and this time I saw the dust kick up just over his back. Now I'm thinking how do you miss a broadside shot at 100 yards.....twice??? I had sighted in the gun just two weeks earlier and it's a nail driver! I drove down to meet my son and my uncle and the only thing I could say was.....what the hell????? Now most of you guys know my son who grew up with a gun in his hands and is a very good shotgun shooter. He simply didn't really think there was much difference between shooting a shotgun versus a rifle. Well I was pissed and we all headed back to camp for lunch. I spotted a heavy horned forked horn at about 60 yards and because we had 4 tags and I really wanted some deer meat I told him to shoot it as I figured it was a slam dunk. Well I'll be damned if he didn't shoot right under its belly!!! He was riding with me and boy did I give him a good ear full!!! On the ride back to camp I was thinking about the first buck and how nice it would have been for a first buck and I cooled down on the 30 minute drive back to camp. My uncle pulled me aside and told me my son was just shaking when he saw that buck. He actually had buck fever!

After downing a hamburger that was cooked on a Traeger, I went and got my range finder and an empty 5 gallon bucket. I set the bucket up at 150 yards and I grabbed a sawhorse out of the back of our supply trailer and yelled for my son to come here for a minute. He came over with his head down and said...what do you want? I said hit that bucket, but before I let him shoot I gave him a little rifle lesson. He leaned over the sawhorse and squeezed off a round, and where do you think he hit it???? NO WHERE!!!! He missed it completely. Now I'm the one who sighted it in and I said give me the damn gun. I quickly shot 2 shots and where do you think I hit???? Yep, first one was dead center and the 2nd one was 1" to the right, now he had no excuses!!!! I said, did you watch how I did that? He smirked and said he would try again and he fired 2 quick shots and where do you think he hit? 2" to the right and 2" low. The other shot was only 1 1/2" away from the first and he was amazed. Well I was drinking a Pepsi so I took the can down and put it on the bucket and came back and said watch this. I took aim and fired and said damn, I just flinched a bit. He went down to look at the can and came back with a smile from ear to ear and said holy shitmy dad hit that can and it was dead center but 1" to the right!!!! He thought it was an impossible shot©))))).

He had to get back to work and so I was left to scout for another big buck. The first morning after he left I could have shot his buck at 300 yards on top of the mountain but I passed it up. During the week I started finding more deer and more bucks, but all little ones. One group I found had 26 head in it, but no bucks. Well a week goes by and he is back at camp. I said are you ready to get serious because I'm finding a lot of deer. He said yes and so I took him back to the spot where he missed the first time. Just as we were coming up the road at 100 yards stood a nice buck and I said get him. This time he got out jacked a shell in and bam. I was watching through the binoculars and I got to see the hair separate as the shot entered into his shoulder, through the heart and out a rib. Season over!!!! You want to talk about tossing the monkey off your back???? This deer tag was priceless!

ATA State Trap Shooting Champion, club member Clayton Philipp

It was a beautiful weekend at the end of October – the best weather month of the year for shooters. I was at the ATA Registered Nevada State Trap Shoot at the Clark County Shooting Complex. On Saturday I shot for the Singles Championship and hit 196 out of 200. That was pretty good considering that score awarded me the Championship last year but sadly not good enough for this year. That's just how it goes somedays in this sport. I woke up Sunday thinking about staying in bed but decided I should at least go out and get the practice against the incredible shooters from around the State. Sunday's event was the State Handicap Championship, a 100 target event. I shot a 96, again a decent score but not one I thought I could win with. Low and behold I found that I had won. Last year I won the Singles Championship and this year the Handicap; a two time ATA Trapshooting Champion. Back in Texas we say "Blind a pig in an acorn field and it's bound to find an acorn." Needless to say my wife and family are very happy for me though my team still chides me for not getting a better score. Happy Thanksgiving and Merry Christmas!

NV Muzzleloader Deer Hunt.....bpatterson

Another awesome hunt and great time had by all. Brian Patterson, Nelson Stone were the tag holders and Steve and Ron Carpenter were along for the memories.

Friday planned departure 7am Stone calls at 6:15am to report he is just leaving the office after an all nighter and will be 2-3 hours behind Steve and Brian. Steve and Brian arrive at camp 11:30am.....4.5 hr travel time MAXIMUM. Ron arrives at camp from Reno approx 2pm. Steve and Brian are back to camp at dark 5pm after hunting all afternoon, Brian passed on a decent 4x4 at 40 yards. Stone still not at camp?

Stone kills first deer of the trip at roughly 5:15 with his truck....it is possibly bigger than the deer he ends up shooting.

The crew has NO DINNER due to Stone lack of being in camp with trailer, cook ware, stove etc. We were just getting settled to sleep in back of trucks.....as temps were falling to single digits when Stone arrives to camp at 8:05pm.....he regails his story of deer murder on the highway, but we have a warm place to sleep... YEA!

Next morning hunt was uneventful, afternoon hunt Brian and Ron spot buck for Nelson on far hillside. A plan is made to move in for a better look. 20-30 mins pass. Brian decides to shoot the nice MATURE 2 yr old baby 4x5 that has appeared behind the truck. 216 yd, 1 shot kill at 4:13pm just 9 mins before close of legal shooting time. Drive to kill site. Photo shoot awesome pics from Stone with snow capped Wheeler Peak in back ground. Steve implies Ron and Brian sent them off after a lesser buck so they could kill the monster 2 year old 4x5. bp does the field butcher job with assistance from Stone and Ron. Bullet is recovered and handed to Stone and Steve.....bullet disappears never to be seen again? WTF? Deer was butchered and in the truck driving back to camp at 5:22pm.....less than 1 hr photo shoot, butcher and pack out. Nice little party in camp.

Steve can't find his bottle from last night accuses campmates of stealing his Crown Royal? Ron and bp have leisure day of calling coyotes, realize bp range finder is missing from the quick pack out and retrieval of the massive 4x5 in the dark the night before, he is also missing a boot? WTF? bullet has still not shown up either? WTF?

Next day several deer were seen leaving fields in the morning....a possible shooter for Stone. The whole gang goes back to kill site to look for lost boot, rangefinder and bullet. not found. Stone fires up the trailer heater to MAX.....1am temps over 90 degrees inside!!!! Miserable.

Next morning we had a late start to get a buck coming from the fields.....2-3 shooter bucks. Plans are made for better opportunity the next and final morning of our trip. Great plan can't wait to execute. Final evening hunt is decided for south end of the unit. A good buck is located and the stalk is on.....Ron and Stone move in, bp spotter. The shooting team got to 200 yds when 2 shots were fired by another hunter.....both misses.

Pick up man (bp) drives down to retrieve the hunters. Ron decides to walk back to Stone quad, taking Stone's rangefinder with him. Stone and bp roll down the road 300-400 yds and spot more deer. Time: 4:16.....4 mins of legal shooting light. We spot the MONSTER buck but have to guess the distance due to Ron having Stones rangefinder and bp rangefinder is missing. 200 plus is my guess and Stone holds over for the shot....miss. Relocate.....same result, miss. We relocate again, moving quickly the MONSTER is gone but buck #2 is close under 100 yds (guess of course on the yardage) clean miss again! WTF? Again we relocate....questionable shooting light conditions, buck is broad side at well under 100 yds (guess again) shot! BUCK DROPPED! 4 feet in the air! We drag the puny 4x4 a mere 76 yds to the road (distance confirmed when we connected with Ron and got the rangefinder).

Final morning in camp no need to try the awesome plan for getting a deer from the fields....bummer. Packed up camp....bp found his boot, in a cooler? WTF? and found his rangefinder, in his tennis shoe!!!! still no bullet? WTF.

Ron got his harvest as well the last night in camp was able to trap his mouse truck mate!

Humane Society of the United States Backing Hunting Ban Ballot Initiative

The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) has now entered the Arizona ballot initiative process for the 2018 election cycle. They have formed a local campaign called Arizonans for Wildlife in an attempt to ban all wild cat hunting in Arizona, much like they did in California a number of years ago (and it isn't going so well there).

Their goal with this action is to get Arizona voters to reject a century of sound scientific wildlife management from our Arizona Game & Fish Department biologists, and turn over the management of wild cats to the ballot box, with an emotion based, non-factual initiative.

The AZ Antelope Foundation does not support this measure as it is our belief that management of ALL 800+ species in Arizona should remain in the capable hands of our state wildlife agency. Wildlife management across all species within shrinking available habitat is a complex matter, and does not belong at the ballot box.

HSUS propaganda leads one to believe that wild cat populations are in danger in Arizona. On the contrary - current wildlife management practices have resulted in healthy mountain lion and bobcat populations across the state. Three other species of cats listed in the ban are already federally protected and cannot be hunted.

For those of you who aren't familiar with HSUS, it is NOT your local pet shelter, and does little, if anything, to support local shelters. They are adept at raising large amounts of money off the backs of unsuspecting donors, most of which goes to large administrative salaries, fundraising (50% last year), lobbying and investments in offshore accounts in the Caribbean. Humane Watch has exposed many of their tactics which you can read about at <https://www.humanewatch.org/>

Three Holy Men and a Bear

Catholic Priest, a Baptist Preacher and a Rabbi were sitting around drinking coffee.

Someone made the comment that preaching to people isn't really all that hard, a real challenge would be to preach to a bear. One thing led to another, and they decided that each would find a bear and attempt to convert it to their religion.

Seven days later, they all came together to discuss their experiences.

Father Flannery, who had his arm in a sling and had various bandages on his body and limbs, went first.

Well, he said, 'I went into the woods to find me a bear. And when I found him, I began to read to him from the Catechism. Well, that bear came after me and began to slap me around. So I quickly grabbed my holy water, sprinkled him and, Holy Mary Mother of God, he became as gentle as a lamb.'

Reverend Billy Bob the Baptist spoke next. He was in a wheelchair and had an IV drip. 'I went out and found me a bear. And then I began to read to my bear from the Bible! But that bear came after me. We wrestled down one hill, until we came to a creek. So I quickly dunked him and baptized his hairy soul. And just like you said, he became as gentle as a lamb.'

The Priest and the Reverend both looked down at the Rabbi, who was lying in a hospital bed. He was in a body cast and traction with IV's and monitors running in and out of him.

The Rabbi looked up and said: "Looking back on it...circumcision may not have been the best way to start..."

Subject: Old Man Walking    Old age ain't for wimps...but it beats dying young.

Two medical students were walking along the street when they saw an old man walking with his legs spread apart. He was stiff-legged and walking slowly.

One student said to his friend: "I'm sure that poor old man has Peltry Syndrome. Those people walk just like that."

The other student says: "No, I don't think so. The old man surely has Zovitzki Syndrome. He walks slowly and his legs are apart, just as we learned in class."

Since they couldn't agree they decided to ask the old man. They approached him and one of the students said to him, "We're medical students and couldn't help but notice the way you walk, but we couldn't agree on the syndrome you might have. Could you tell us what it is?"

The old man said, "I'll tell you, but first you tell me what you two fine medical students think."

The first student said, "I think it's Peltry Syndrome." The old man said, "You thought - but you are wrong."

The other student said, "I think you have Zovitzki Syndrome." The old man said, "You thought - but you are wrong."

So they asked him, "Well, old timer, what do you have?"

The old man said "Well, I thought it was GAS - but I was wrong, too!"

Two 90-year old guys,
Leo and Frank, had been friends all of their lives.

When it was clear that Leo was dying, Frank visited him everyday. One day Frank said 'Leo, we both loved playing baseball all our lives, and we played all through High School. Please do me one favour: when you get to Heaven, somehow you must let me know if there's baseball there.'

Leo looked up at Frank from his deathbed and said, 'Frank you've been my best friend for many years. If it's at all possible, I'll do this favour for you.'

Shortly after that, Leo passed on.

A few nights later, Frank was awakened from a sound sleep by a blinding flash of white light and a voice calling out to him 'Frank... Frank.' 'Who is it?' asked Frank sitting up suddenly. 'Who is it?' 'Leo-- it's me, Leo'. 'You're not Leo, Leo just died.' 'I'm telling you, it's me, Leo' insisted the voice.

'Leo!...Where are you?' 'In Heaven,' replied Leo. 'I have some really good news and a little bad news.' 'Tell me the good news first,' said Frank.

'The good news,' Leo said, 'is that there's baseball in Heaven. Better yet all of our old buddies who died before us are here, too. Better than that, we're all young again. Better still, it's always springtime, and it never rains or snows. And best of all, we can play baseball all we want, and we never get tired.'

'That's fantastic,' said Frank 'It's beyond my wildest dreams! So what's the bad news?'

'You're pitching Tuesday.'
