For those who missed the results of the fishing event at Sunnyside. On April 22nd the Las Vegas Woods and Waters 2023 Sunnyside ice off event took place after three weeks to reschedule due to the longer, lower winter temps and ice still being on the Hay Meadow reservoir earlier in the month. This event was swapped out with our annual Ely ice off event and again, due to colder than normal temps we cancelled that event and travelled to Sunnyside. 13 LV Woods and Waters members travelled to Kirch Wildlife Management Area and took their fishing skills to Hay Meadow reservoir and fished their hearts out.

Jorge Artega won the event with a whopping .96-pound trout. The average size fish being landed by most anglers seem to be in the 9-to13-inch length and weighing less than a pound. The weather was beautiful but the gusty 12 mph wind made it rough for guys in boats and float tubes. We had a couple of nonmembers attend our event and they had a blast with our club.

Donuts, muffins, soft drinks along with some tasty Latin delights were provided by LVW&W members. Another fun trip in the Battleborn state for our LVW&W members where we enjoyed what Nevada has to offer our club and talked about past and future events. Thank you all for coming to our event. See you on the next event in Otter Creek. 13 members attended.

1. First place for the event- Jorge Artega earned 10 points for winning the even. 2. Second place for the event-Scott Peterson earned 9 points for second place. 3. Third place for the event- Nick Gulli earned 8 points for third place. The following members all earned 1 point for partaking in the event. Bruce Hudson- 1 point, Glenn Allen- 1 point, Robert Gaudet-1 point, Mark Transue-1 point, Rocky Becker-1 point, Brandon Becker-1 point, Brian Patterson-1 point, Ralph Willits-1 point, Roger Palmer-1 point 2023 Marksman & Angler of the Year Standi

Jokes

Roy and Ernest went moose hunting every winter without success.

Finally, they came up with a foolproof plan. They got a very authentic female moose costume and learned the mating call of a female moose. The plan was to hide in the costume, lure the bull, then come out of the costume and shoot the bull.

They set themselves up on the edge of a clearing, donned their costume, moved into their tent and began to give the moose love call.

Before long, their call was answered as a bull came crashing out of the forest and into the clearing.

When the bull was close enough, Roy said, "Okay, lets get out and get him."

After a moment that seemed like an eternity, Ernest shouted, "The zipper is stuck! What are we going to do!?"

Roy says, "Well, I'm going to start nibbling grass, but you'd better brace yourself."
